SERBIANS PARTLY DESTROY INVADING TEUTONIC ARMY

Advance Guard of Austro-Germans Who Cross the Danube at Belgrade Meet Enormous Losses, According to Official Dispatch by Serbian Legation at Nish—Many Captured.

ALLIES MAY FORCE GREECE TO ENTER WAR

Suggested That a Fleet in Greek Waters Would Serve to Prevent a Recurrence of Bulgarian Incident, When That Country Made a Sudden Change of Attitude from Entente to Teutons.

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 8.—The advance guard of the Austro-Germans who crossed the Danube at Belgrade has been partly destroyed and partly captured and those who entered the Serbian territory across the Save have met with enormous losses, according to an official dispatch received tonight by the Serbian legation from Nish.

The dispatch says:

"On the northern frontier the enemy has crossed the Save at Yark, the Isle of Prograska, at Zabrez, opposite Petrinica, and at the great Isle of Ciganlija and on the Danube at the Belgrade fortress, at the quay and at Ram.

"The advance guard which crossed at the Belgrade fortress has been partly destroyed and partly captured.

"At Yark, Zabrez and the Isle of Prograska, after several fierce attacks the enemy has been pinned to the very brink of the river with enormous losses.

"At the other crossing points the struggle continues.

"At Belgrade two officers and over 100 soldiers were captured, of whom eighteen were from the 20th infantry regiment of the forty-third German division. Among the captured were also soldiers of a Prussian brigade belonging to the fifteenth army corps, which came here from the Italian front."

Situation Keenly Interesting.

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 8.—The efforts of Austria and Germany to force their way through Serbia to reach the Near Eastern seas and join hands with their Turkish allies have produced one of the most interesting situations of the war.

The Austro-German troops already have gained a footing on Serbian territory, but they have not yet come into touch with the main Serbian army which is entrenched in the mountains just beyond the rivers, while the Anglo-French force which will land at Saloniki is making its way northward to assist the Serbians and to protect Macedonia from a threatened Bulgarian invasion.

The landing of British and French troops, proceeding despite the change in the Greek government, the members of the entente powers at Athens have asked Greece to define her policy with regard to the Balkan situation, but the new premier, Alexander Zalimis, has answered that he will be unable to do this until a meeting of the cabinet is held. There is, however, evidence that Greece will maintain a policy of benevolent neutrality toward the allies.

The press and public of London and Paris with the experience of the sudden change in Bulgaria's attitude fresh in their memory are demanding that steps be taken to see to it that a similar change does not take place in Athens. It has been suggested that the appearance of an allied fleet in Greek waters would have the effect of holding Greece in line.

Allies Off Bulgarian Ports.

Allied fleets already are reported off Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and in the Black Seas and in view of the possibility of a Russian landing on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria it is stated that a Turkish army is being sent there so that the Bulgars will not be called upon to fight their old friends and protectors.

What assistance Italy will lend her allies in the new venture forced on them in the Balkans is not disclosed, nor has any change in the policy of Rumania been announced.

The German press suggests that the allies despite the landing of troops in Saloniki are preparing for more extensive operations against Turkey in the hope of smashing her before permanent assistance arrives and that Italy may take part in these operations.

There are still three months of good

SUMMARY OF WAR

The Serbians are at grips with the invading Austro-German forces, and according to a Serbian official statement in London, have won at least a temporary victory over the advance guard which crossed the Danube and the Save rivers into Serbian territory.

It is stated that the Teutonic advance guard has been partly destroyed and partly captured.

With Serbia attacked on the north by a great force, the question whether Bulgaria will join the conflict on the side of the central powers and attack Serbia on the east is the outstanding feature of the complicated Balkan situation. Among the movements that may show Bulgaria's intentions, it is reported that the ministers of the entente powers have received the passports which they asked for and have left the Bulgarian capital. Further, the Bulgarian minister to Paris has been handed his passport.

The attitude of Greece apparently remains an unsolved problem. A news dispatch says that the Greek, French, and Russian ministers, who visited him that he could not define the government's policy until after a cabinet meeting. It is said that Greece proposed to maintain an attitude of benevolent neutrality to

CHIEF EXECUTIVE AND FIANCÉE SOMEWHAT SHY ON FIRST APPEARANCE IN PUBLIC AFTER ANNOUNCEMENT OF ENGAGEMENT BUT ACCEPT ATTENTION.

ARE STARS AT A THEATRE

When President and Woman Who Is to Be the First Lady of the Land Enter House Big Audience Arises and Applauds—Will See the World's Series Game Today.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 8.—President Wilson and his fiancee, Mrs. Norman Galt, came to New York today for a brief visit to the president's closest friend, Col. E. M. House. From the time of their arrival this afternoon until late tonight they were New York's chief objects of interest.

For the first time since he became president Mr. Wilson gave way as a center of attraction to another, the woman who within the next two months is to become the "first lady of the land."

Both the president and Mrs. Galt were evidently pleased by the reception accorded them. They were slightly shy of their first appearance in public, an engaged couple but acknowledged applause with smiles. They made no attempt to hide and appeared in public together. The president gave himself up to entertaining his fiancee. He was jovial throughout the day and his usually stern face was wreathed in smiles.

The couple's program included a long automobile ride through the parks, a dinner party at the home of Col. and Mrs. House, and a theatre party tonight. Tomorrow they leave for Philadelphia where they plan to witness the second game of the world's series. Immediately afterwards they will go to Washington.

At the theatre "Grumpy" was the play but the president and Mrs. Galt were easily the stars. As they entered the theatre the audience arose and applauded.

Several hundred persons were gathered at the Pennsylvania station when the presidential party arrived. The crowd cheered and the future Mrs. Wilson beamed in return while the president looked at her and smiled.

"They are applauding you," he said.

During the automobile ride the president and Mrs. Galt were frequently recognized and greeted with smiles and bows. Many maid-servants tried to get near the president's car and at one time a procession of more than 100 automobiles was following him, the secret service men having a difficult time in keeping the autoists back. As the president and Mrs. Galt left the hotel where she is staying with her mother, Mrs. Bolling, they were surrounded by a delegation of photographers and smilingly sat for their pictures to be taken.

For the dinner and theatre party afterward Mrs. Galt wore a low cut gown of black relieved by a large corsage bouquet of red roses. Over her gown she had an elaborate opera cloak of red and black. She wore no ornaments in her hair.

Colonel House's Daughter Present.

The guest of honor included besides the presidential party, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Auincloss, the latter the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. House.

Definite plans have not been made for the party tomorrow morning but it is probable they may do some shopping before leaving for Philadelphia. Those expecting the president to buy an engagement ring for Mrs. Galt to day were disappointed but he may do so tomorrow.

No definite information was obtained today as to the date of the wedding, but it was said that the ceremony will be solemnized not more than two months from now and not less

Bandits' Loot May Run Into Millions, Say Postal Officials

By The Associated Press.

Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—Not less than $100,000 and probably more—possibly as much as $10,000,000—was the amount of loot secured by the bandits who held up Baltimore and Ohio train No. 1, at Central station, W. Va., early today.

This was the opinion expressed by postal officials in Cincinnati tonight after they had received official reports from Clerk in Charge Haines Huff and the other two mail clerks who were held at bay while the bandits made their escape with ninety-three registered packages, containing money shipped from the United States treasury at Washington.

From statements made by the three postal clerks there is strong indication that the robbers were in or closely connected with the mail service or the treasury department.

The registered packages taken were from three pouches which had just been emptied upon a work table by Clerk Huff. Clerk Huff told Inspector M. A. Griswold that it was his recollection that the majority of the packages contained in the three pouches were sent from the office of the comptroller of the currency. Inquiry at the local United States treasury disclosed the fact that all money sent out from the comptroller's office is national bank notes which are not negotiable without the signature of the official of the bank to which it is connected, but it is stated that these bills are easily made negotiable by the forging of signatures of the bank officials.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Grover Cleveland Alexander won his game from the Boston Red Sox today, but the victory was far from being the impressive one his teammates of the Philadelphia National League had predicted. The breaks of the game were with the star pitcher of the National league and had to be given him the honor of winning the first world's series contest in which he has participated. Through a sequence of plays as unusual as ever was upon a ball field, the Phillips won 3 to 1.

France Now Has a Completely Equipped Squadron of the Air

By The Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 8.—An aerial army is no longer a dream of romance. Such an army, formed in divisions and squadrons with battle aeroplanes, cruiser aeroplanes, scouts and torpedo planes, all armored heavily and carrying three-inch canon and rapid-fire guns, has been made possible through the remarkable development of military aviation in France.

The French government today permitted foreign correspondents the first inspection of its new fleet of aeroplanes. Opportunity was given to inspect the large and small types of the new battle planes and watch them as they were maneuvering high in the air, firing round after round from their three-inch rifles, while they soared looped and darted about.

Entering the aviation field, the correspondents saw a monster battle plane thirty feet high with a number of planes stretching 130 feet across. Further back was ranged the fleet of battle cruisers and scout planes. They were formed like a battalion, twenty planes in a row across the front and ten deep. Their huge wings made a front half a mile wide.

Their battle planes and all the cruisers were armored heavily. Each carried both the three-inch canon and the rapid-fire gun.

The huge battle plane was the chief center of attention. The engineer who constructed it explained the details. The officer said this was the first actual realization of the battle plane, other aerial dreadnaughts having proved impractical. This monster actually flies, carrying a crew of twelve men, with two canon on the wings, throwing three-inch steel projectiles.

Three trial flights have been made, demonstrating that it has the steady ness of an ordinary biplane. The huge craft is now ready for the battle line. The regular crew for fighting will consist of four men and an observer.

The armored cruiser aeroplanes were then brought out and put through tests. They are small biplanes of high power. Each has a canon and is capable of rising almost vertically from the ground at a speed of ninety miles an hour.

A large number of these battle cruisers is now ready. Several of them recently carried out a night bombardment back of the German line. During the Champagne engagement these cruisers hit a German balloon which exploded in a mass of flames.

This, however, was only the initial battle. Movements by large squadrons are expected soon to attack German lines of communications and spread demoralization in the rear of the enemy.

Each squadron will consist of nine aeroplanes of all types, including one battle plane, two battle cruisers and six scouts. The complement for a squadron will be upward of fifty officers and men for the operation of the aeroplanes and their transportation on lorries drawn by automobiles with which each squadron will be equipped.

Skinner May Not Be Wanted Further by Great Britain

By The Associated Press
Washington, Oct. 8.—While apparently seeking to escape from an enemy who is supposed to have followed her for more than 1,000 miles, Mrs. Katherine Arnold, Buffalo, N. Y., was shot to death early today in a small hotel here by a man who boldly walked in and asked to see her.

Following the identification of the woman and the story of her efforts to avoid seeing her, she feared the police held four witnesses and sought several other persons with whom she was acquainted and saw her in the five days she was alive in the city.

Further light on the case was ex- pected from Tyler, Texas, where Mrs. Arnold had said she formerly lived.

On cross examination today Mayor Bell admitted he played poker at a hotel but asserted "It's a gentleman's game and with gentlemen of high standing."

In reply to a question the mayor stated he would not permit crap games in the negro district.

England's Blunder in Balkans Called "Ghastly" by Press

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 8.—Describing Great Britain's diplomatic failure in the Balkans as "ghastly" the Globe declares that foreign relations of the country cannot safely be left in the hands of the foreign office as it is at present constituted.

"It's record," says the Globe, "has been one of dismal, tragic weakness. It is a misfortune that Sir Edward Grey speaks no language but his own. It is a greater misfortune that he has been incapacitated through ill health. It is the greatest of all that his permanent under-secretary under whom he must chiefly depend is sprung from a German mother and married to a German woman.

"If the failure is not to culminate in disaster the ill-omened partnership must be ended."

FOSQUE-AMICABLE CASE IS SETTLED

ATTORNEYS FOR BOTH SIDES SAY
TERMS ALTOGETHER SATIS-FACTORY TO ALL PARTIES.

Suit One of Most Famous Ever Tried in McLennan County—No Appeal
Will Be Taken.

The famous Fosque-Amicable suit has been settled and will not be appealed. Attorneys for Dr. G. B. Fosque, the plaintiff, and for the Amicable Life Insurance company, A. R. Roberts as its president and A. R. Wilson as its secretary, defendants, admitted yesterday that an agreement had been reached. All concerned declined to give any figures, saying the terms of the settlement were agreeable to all parties.

Dr. Fosque, who was formerly medical director for the insurance company, brought suit for $60,000 for alleged libel growing out of statements said to have been made by the defendants. The suit was first filed in the Fifty-fourth district court and then transferred to the Seventy-fourth district court, where it was tried.

A new record for civil cases was made in McLennan county by the trial which extended over a period of almost eight weeks. On August 6, the jury brought in a judgment for the plaintiff for $8,000 and defendants' attorney gave notice of appeal. What seemed to be available rumor fixes the figure settled upon out of court in the neighborhood of $7,000. The trial cost the county for jurors' fees and other items around $2,000.

There were a number of attorneys on each side, all of them prominent members of the local bar. One interesting feature was that the trial was before Judge E. J. Clark, one of the youngest district judges in the state. His handling of the case was the cause of many favorable comments especially among the lawyers.

For some time there have been rumors that a settlement was being made and it was finally admitted yesterday by attorneys for both sides that an agreement had been reached. "The settlement is absolutely satisfactory to me," was all that Dr. Fosque, the plaintiff, would say last night in regard to the matter.

PROLONGING HUMAN LIFE.

The United States public health service and the various health agencies of this country are working to prolong the average duration of life. In this they are obeying the desire for existence which is the strongest instinct of mankind. Only a small proportion of the human race rounds out its tour of duty on this earth. Some people are born with good bodies which they treat well. Barring accidents they live a long time. Some people are born with poor bodies which they treat well. Barring accidents they can live to a ripe old age. Some people are born with good bodies which they treat badly and some people are born with poor bodies which they treat badly. They don't last long.

It is recorded that in Yorkshire in 1501, Henry Jenkins was born. He died in 1670, cut off at the age of 169. He remembered well the battle of Flodden Field. This occurred in 1513, when he was 12 years of age. The register of chancery and other courts show the administration of justice to him 149 years prior to his death. He gave deposition as witness when he was 157. In his young manhood, when he was a little over 100, he was a remarkable swimmer.

The term, "old age," too frequently is another name for the failing due of the debts of youth. Over-eating, over-drinking, over-playing, over-working, these are drafts on the bank of Nature which sooner or later must be met. Sometimes the day of reckoning can be put off a little bit, but Dame Nature will not be wheedled out of her claim.

The remarkable thing about Henry Jenkins is the fact that he has left behind him no rules of living which would enable one to duplicate his feat. In this he showed great self-repression. As a matter of fact, there is no royal road to old age and it is not to be attained by a particular dietary or regimen of life. Perhaps the best rule may be expressed in one word, "Moderation." Moderation in food, moderation in drink, moderation in the joys and worries of life, moderation in work, moderation in recreation, equanimity of the mind, the soul and the body. These make for long tenure of life.

Al Jennings, ex-train robber and politician, has turned evangelist and is preaching in Brooklyn.

President Wilson is an advocate of individual as well as national preparedness and has engaged a partner to assist him in his battles.

Japan threatens to play that familiar old role of a bull in the China shop if she doesn't get just what she wants from the new republic.

If our old friend, Ven Carranza, obtains the recognition of the United States and the alphabetical countries we think he ought to oblige us by visiting a barber shop.

An exchange suggests that Miss Margaret Wilson should now decide to get married and make it unanimous. Does not the rumor that she is to marry a Chicago publisher indicate that she has already adopted that idea?

They say that Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, who is due to become the next first lady of the land, is a direct descendant of the famous Indian princess, Pocahontas. Probably this accounts for her striking beauty and also for the fact that she caught the "pick of the land," for Pocahontas had a way of fascinating brilliant men that was very effective.

THE BOY AN ALL-AROUND FARMER.

The success of boys' corn clubs and pig clubs in the South has led those in charge of the work in this section to plan for the extension of the movement through the formation of boys' farm clubs, announces the federal department of agriculture. In these clubs the boys who have already learned in the former organizations how to produce large yields of corn and the value of livestock will be taught the elementary principles of crop rotation, the economical feeding of livestock and the upbuilding of the soil.

Without some system of rotation, members of the corn clubs who have obtained large yields on their acre one year cannot repeat their performances the following season. The farm clubs, therefore, are designed to teach the boys how best to use this acre the year after they have grown their corn. Each one of the members should own or have the care of, at least one farm animal which should be carried on the acre, returning a profit to its owner and fertilizing the soil. The third year the acre is to be sown to corn again.

In this way the boys' clubs now provide a practical three years' course in the principles of sound agriculture. The importance of the movement is shown by the fact that nearly 75,000 boys are now enrolled in the corn clubs of the South, and several thousand more in pig clubs, not only learning themselves, but furnishing an invaluable object lesson to the grown farmers around them.

The exact rotation that is followed in these farm clubs is, of course, determined by individual conditions. In some sections the acre should be sown to a cover crop for grazing and turning under in the spring. After this treatment, cowpeas, soy beans, or peanuts may be sown and prizes given for the greatest yield. Elsewhere such crops as rye and crimson clover, rye and bur clover, or vetch and oats may be sown together. Excellent results have already been obtained by many boys with crimson clover, one reason being that they take more pains with inoculation than the average farmer.

For the smaller boys in the first years of their memberships in the clubs, one acre is probably enough to handle. The corn they require to feed their livestock may be obtained in exchange for small grain, hay, cowpeas, clover seed, or some of the other products of their acre, or else the average boy, by helping his father on a farm, may receive sufficient feed of corn in return for his labor. Older boys may, of course, find two acres none too much, putting one acre in corn and the other in small grain and legumes.

In order to stimulate interest, the authorities in charge of this demonstration work are recommending that prizes be offered for legumes and for the small grain grown by the club members as well as for corn. If a boy uses his grain crop for grazing or turning under, he can compete for prizes on such crops as peanuts, beans, peas and lima beans. It is also an excellent opportunity for valuable demonstration in the best methods of harvesting the seed of the clovers, vetch, etc.

After a year of this work, preparation should be made to plant the acre to corn again. The boy will then know much more about corn production and farming in general than when he first entered the club. At the end of the third year most of the club members will probably be compelled, for one reason or another, to leave the club. It is recommended that certificates signed by the highest authorities of the colleges and states should be given to every boy after three years' work of the character outlined.

Temple had a religious parade through the business streets of the city Thursday night. We hope this is evidence of a healthful reaction from another kind of demonstration that occurred on the streets of that city one Friday night not many weeks ago.

That minister over at Henderson who covered two escaped prisoners who sought refuge under the parsonage, with his gun and took them back to jail, has plenty of nerve and presence of mind to do battle with the devil all right.

Bulgaria is to issue a green book. Having had books of white, blue, red, yellow and several other colors, it is about time we were having one comprehensive book telling the real truth about the war instead of the versions of the various contending nations. In that event it would require a black book, in case the cover of the book corresponds with the facts that it revealed.

While the Cotton Belt road is not so prosperous as it would like to be, the annual report the other day showed net earnings of over two and a quarter million dollars for the last fiscal year, the hardest in the road's history. The word comes that business of the road is rapidly returning to normal and the entire directorate was re-elected. No scandals have disgraced the Cotton Belt management.

Rockefeller Declares Must Be No More Strikes; Wasteful

By The Associated Press.

Denver, Oct. 8.—"I have told the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the men employed by the corporation that there is one thing which must never happen again—that is a strike. A strike is wantonly wasteful of human life and property; no party is benefited but all parties are harmed, including the public and the state."

This was the statement of John D. Rockefeller Jr., in an address before the Denver chamber of commerce today. Speaking of his father's interest in Colorado, Mr. Rockefeller paused to say:

"Criticised, maligned and condemned these many years not only for his business success but also because of his philanthropic endeavors, there is still not the slightest trace of bitterness in his character and he has nothing but good will for men."

"Whatever I am or may be, I owe to my maintained mother and my honored father."

Mr. Rockefeller reaffirmed his belief in labor unions provided they are so organized as to leave "every worker free to associate himself with such groups or to work independently."

Carranza Marches on Sonora.

By The Associated Press.

Guadalajara, Mex., Oct. 8, via Wireless. San Diego, Cal.—Carranza forces reported advancing into Sonora from the southern bordering state of Sinaloa are yet south of the Yaqui river, south of the Debacate mountains. Apparently no attempt has been made to ford the river.

Were the troops to concentrate at the mouth of the Yaqui they would be within a few hours of this city by gun navigation.

A burned bridge near Mapole, twenty-five miles south of here, has marooned a train which left here yesterday and is unable to return. The prefect of this city is aboard a north-bound train due to arrive in Nogales. He has resumed. Telegraphic communication with Nogales again has been resumed.

Advices from there received today stated that a provision train left there for the relief of Americans at the Southern Pacific town of Empalme, Sonora, who refused to return to the United States.

German Comment on Greece.

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 8.—Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent sends a dispatch in which he quotes from the Frankfurter Zeitung as follows:

"The Greek government even under new men will not be able to oppose the illegal act in Saloniiki otherwise than by formal protest. The protestation Germany made to Athens does not ignore the difficult situation of Greece, but is at the same time a warning that silent indifference and if further encroachments by the entente on the sovereign rights of Greece would be a breach of neutrality by Greece herself. Any favor of the entente's military preparations at Saloniiki by the Greek authorities would constitute a transgression of the limits which can be considered responsible in view of Greece's emergency."

Attack on American Waters.

By The Associated Press.

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, Oct. 8.—The British freight ship San Melito, which arrived here yesterday from Tuxpan, Mexico, and reported that she had been attacked at sea by an unknown vessel, one sailor being killed and six wounded, left this port the same day bound for Santos.

The newspaper A Noite publishes an interview with the captain of the San Melito in which he stated that the British admiralty insisted on the strictest secrecy regarding the place of the attack in order to facilitate the mission of the swift British cruisers on patrol duty.

The captain is quoted as saying that he believes the attacking vessel was a German torpedo boat for he saw off his ship saw the peculiar wake caused by a torpedo. The captain said the first shell that struck his ship made a hole three yards long and one yard wide and pierced the steel plate half an inch thick. Other shells ricocheted on the petroleum tanks.

In order to stimulate interest, the authorities in charge of this demonstration work are recommending that prizes be offered for legumes and for the small grain grown by the club members as well as for corn. If a boy uses his grain crop for grazing or turning under, he can compete for prizes on such crops as peanuts, beans, peas and lima beans. It is also an excellent opportunity for valuable demonstration in the best methods of harvesting the seed of the clovers, vetch, etc.

Italian Statement.

By The Associated Press.

Rome, Oct. 8, via Paris, Oct. 9, 12:50 a.m.—The war office today made public the following official statement:

"Between Adige and Brenta the activity of our troops has been maintained by intense artillery fire. On the morning which form the southward slopes of Gal and on Rombon in the Pizzio basin the enemy attempted to strengthen his defensive works but he has been stopped by the accurate fire of our artillery and a detachment of snipers.

"On the Carso front in the Gorizia region successful attacks by small detachments of the troops continued.

"Austrian aeroplanes have thrown bombs on Rochelette in the Astico valley without doing any damage and on the Vergigna railroad station where five soldiers were slightly injured."

Abandon Pekin Celebration.

By The Associated Press.

London, Oct. 8.—A great military review planned in Pekin in celebration of the anniversary of the formation of the republic is said by the Pekin correspondent of the Evening Standard to have been abandoned in consequence of the discovery that military leaders intended forcibly to crown Yuan Shih Kai as emperor.

The correspondent adds that the monarchial movement is developing rapidly and the belief is growing that the present would be proclaimed emperor on New Years day.

Gaffney's Resignation Accepted.

By The Associated Press.

Zurich, Switzerland, Oct. 8, via London.—A telegram from Munich states that St. John Gaffney, the retiring American consul general at Munich on Tuesday morning received from Washington a dispatch stating that President Wilson had accepted his resignation but giving no reasons. The message adds that the American colony at Munich some days ago sent a dispatch to Washington protesting against what they characterized as calumnies concerning Mr. Gaffney's conduct.

The Neuste Nachrichten of Munich says that Mr. Gaffney will remain in Munich for the present, later going to America, where he will take an active part in the presidential campaign next year.

Anti-Parking Ordinance Effective Next Wednesday

Because the selection of a semi-weekly newspaper as the official organ of the city made it impossible to publish the Austin avenue anti-parking ordinance after it was passed by the city commission, owners and drivers of vehicles have three more days in which they may stand for me to publish on Austin without molestation by the law. Then they would have been allowed had the ordinance been published in a daily paper immediately after passage.

As the matter now stands, the ordinance will become effective next Wednesday. Had the ordinance been published immediately after passage, today would have been the last day of grace. The city charter provides that a criminal ordinance shall go into effect ten days after the date of first publication in the official organ of the city.

The ordinance was passed Sept. 30, and published for the first time Oct. 2, making next Tuesday the last day on which vehicles may stand on the avenue between the square and Eighth street for more than an hour continuously. The ordinance prohibiting parking on South Seventh street between Austin and Banker's alley goes into effect at the same time.

steamer Rio Pallaressa late tonight was reported in distress off the mouth of the Savannah river. Six tug boats have been sent to her aid. It was believed the Rio Pallaressa is aground off Tybee bar, but details were not available. She is a vessel of 2,582 tons and was bound from Matanzas to New York with sugar.

"Fix the blame," is the incessant cry. "Make it impossible for greed and indifference to cause such wholesale slaughter of human life."

Yet the death-dealing rum traffic will continue to dominate the cities off the coast states protected by law. It is conservatively estimated that the legalized liquor traffic is responsible for more than 50 per cent of the taxes to the state, 75 per cent of the insanity, 75 per cent of the divorces; 50 per cent of the industrial accidents, and for 100,000 deaths per year during the last twenty-five years.

Baylor Girls Give Soiree on Campus to Working Boys' Club

One hundred members of the Working Boys' club enjoyed a Baylor girls' soiree on the campus last night. The young women of the Burlison-Brooks hall were at home to welcome them with plans to entertain them by the Y. W. C. A. of the university. Miss Irene Marschal was in charge of the arrangements and following a general reception in the music hall when the boys got acquainted with the girls and listened to a few musical selections, adjournment was taken to the Baylor campus where refreshments were served.

Later the boys and girls joined in a college snake dance and other games, the experience being very delightful to boys and girls alike. Willie Milberger, president of the club, expressed the appreciation of the boys for the pleasure afforded them, and there was an exchange of yells between the boys and girls. Joe Drazen, in the company of Charlie Chaplin, made a hit with the Baylor people. It was with reluctance on both the part of the hostesses and visitors, that the reception came to an end with 9 o'clock.

Alexander outpitched Shore in every way except in the number of hits allowed. "Alex" gave but two bases on balls as against Shore's four and he struck out six men while Shore fanned but two.

Rain last night and early today threatened to cause a postponement of the game which eventually was played on a slow field under a bright October sun. The cozy, dry grounds of the Phillips were limited to the limit despite the fact that the official count of twenty thousand, probably the smallest crowd that ever witnessed a start of a world's series.

The official attendance was 19,343. Total receipts $51,066.

National commission's share $5,106.60.

Players share $27,575.84.

Each club's share $18,191.88.

Speculation on Today's Batteries.

There is much speculation tonight as to the batteries for tomorrow's game. It seems taken for granted that Moran's choice for the Phillips will be either Chalmers or Mayer, while Carrigan will send either Foster or Leonard in for the Red Sox.

The lack of keen playing judgment and the unbalanced defensive strength of the Red Sox was the direct cause of their American League champions' defeat today, while the ability of the Phillips to take advantage of the slightest opening gave them the runs which brought victory. Offensively the Boston combination proved that it had an edge on the Moran brigade even with Alexander in the box.

Young Shore tonight was given almost as much credit as the winning star of the Phillips as followers of the game considered that the loss of the opening contest could not be placed entirely upon his shoulders. Although unsteady at times Shore's mental attitude was not helped by the manner in which his teammates played, both on the bases and in the field and in the end this erratic attack and defense broke the Red Sox. Alexander at the beginning of the game had a perceptible edge over Alexander.

A notable feature of the play was the failure of both teams to hit the ball hard and safe when men were on bases. This was particularly true of Boston, who with eight hits had nine men left on bases and scored only one run, while Philadelphia, on a total of more than fifty per cent of the hits made by their opponents, scored three runs in their runs and had but five stranded. Only two bases were stolen during the game, partly because of the soggy infield.

Both pitchers kept the ball low throughout the game, cutting the corners of the plate for most of their called strikes.

Tris Speaker, premier batsman of the Red Sox, failed to get a hit off of Alexander, but did bring up two passes and two flies to left field. Cravath, the home run king, was also ineffective. Lewis carried off the batting honors with two singles in four times up, both being out-of-field drives. However, he fanned twice, once with Hoblitzel on second and but one out.

The game appeared to drag at times but there was not the slightest intentional delay by the players who never questioned a single decision of the umpires.

Start is Six Minutes Late.

There were the usual preliminaries that always precede the opening game of a world's series and it was six minutes past 2 o'clock when Umpire Bill Klem called "play ball."

Hooper, the Red Sox lead off man, was the first to get in, letting Alexander's first offering go by him, for Klem called it a ball. Then he laced the second ball that the Phillips' idol sent up to center field for a single, much to the joy of the Boston rooters. It was a low hard drive.

Scott sent Hooper to second on a pretty sacrifice, Alexander to Luderus. Alexander appeared a bit as Speaker stepped off the bat, but he quickly put two strikes over, cutting the outside edge of the plate. Then Alexander, in trying to get Speaker for a third strike, pitched wide and the big Texan was given a base on balls. Speaker was forced at second by Hoblitzel, Bancroft to Niehoff, Hooper sprinting to third. Then came the first break in Boston's playing, Hoblitzel being caught napping off first, Alexander to Luderus, when he took too long a lead off the side of the plate.

Speaker made short work of Stock when he came to bat, the Phillips' third baseman going out on a high foul fly to Cravath before the plate and first base. Shortstop Bancroft lifted a fly to Jack Barry. There was a mix up in signals on this play, Scott also going after the ball and bumping into the ex-Mackman as he caught the ball. Paskert was at third out on a soft fly to Hoblitzel.

Lewis started for Boston in the second inning, drove a scorching single to left field which Whitted, the former Braves player, fielded quickly. Gardner sacrificed, Alexander to Luderus, Lewis pulling up at second. Barry hit sharply to Alexander, who threw to third to head off Lewis going to that bag. Lewis turned and started back with Stock after the ball, and when the third base coach found he could not outstrip the speedy runner, he threw to Bancroft, covering second. Bancroft made a stab to get Barry sliding into second, but he was an instant too late and turned and caught Lewis as he was turning to go to third again. Cravath ended the inning going out on strikes.

Cravath Gets Hand.

Gabby Cravath, who made a record of twenty-four home runs this season, was given a round of applause when he stepped to the plate. Shore let him walk and he was forced at second on Luderus' grounder, Barry making the out. Cravath ran out of time in trying to avoid Stock. Luderus tried to steady and was thrown out on a beautiful throw, Cravath to Barry. Whitted worked a base on balls and was left on first when Niehoff struck out, retiring the side.

Shore, leading off for Boston in the third, was an easy out, Niehoff to Luderus. Hooper lifted a high, long ball to Whitted in left field. Then Scott banged a hard low drive between left and center for a single. Speaker tried hard to put the ball into the left field bleachers, but his drive was too short and Whitted was under it for the third out.

The Phillips set their third single in the third inning. After Eddie Burns had lifted a fly which Scott gathered in, Alexander sent a slow tantalizing bunt to Gardner, who came in to make a quick play, but he could not field the ball to first in time to head off the runner at second, Gardner forced the writer at second, Gardner scooped up the ball and raced to first

BIG CROWD ATTENDS CHRISTIAN REVIVAL

EVANGELIST HUGH McCLELLAN PREACHES ON PARABLE OF THE PRODIGAL SON.

No Services Will be Held Tonight But Meetings Will Continue Through Next Week.

One of the best crowds yet attended the Central Christian revival last night. Some unique methods are being used to advertise the meeting, among them being "admission tickets" that are being handed out by members of the congregation, the narrow ribbed slips bearing the following words: "Admit tonight, Central Christian Church Revival, Eleventh and Washington, Good Music, Good Preaching, Welcome, Hugh McClellan, Evangelist."

The subject of the discourse last night was the parable of the Lost Son.

Mr. McClellan showed how the parable had been used in efforts to analyze it too closely. He treated it in a broad way and drew from it several important lessons.

The Recklessness of Youth.

Young men have within them a streak of recklessness, he said. It is not so much wickedness as recklessness. This was proved in the parable by the prodigal having no reason to leave home and comforts. It was simply the self-unreasonable whim of an adolescent youth.

The last point developed was the measure of sin. The preacher showed that sin did not present itself as an ugly thing but robed in beauty, it appeared as an angel of light.

When the young man of the parable was without money he found out that he was without friends. The friendship of the world is not sincere.

The last point developed was the love of God as shown in the person of the father who received back his erring son.

Mr. McClellan will continue the services from night to night, but there will be no meeting tonight. Preparations are being made for big meetings Sunday morning and evening and special music will be a feature.

Boston Rooters Beg for Run.

By this time the Boston rooters were almost frantic for a run. With the National Leagues having the edge, they called on Cady for a hit as he came to bat for the Red Sox in the fifth inning. But Cady did them, offering Niehoff an easy choice which he accepted. Shore was given a generous lead by his excellent pitching, poked a single through the infield to center. Hooper was forced out at second by Scott, Niehoff to Bancroft on a neat play.

Burns, the first National Leaguer up in the fifth struck out. Alexander lifted one to Lewis. Stock raised a low ball in front of the plate. Shore came racing in to catch it off his toes. A step too short and failed to hold the ball. It was given an error on the play. Bancroft was easily retired, Shore to Hoblitzel.

Speaker in the sixth went out the same way he did in the third inning, lining a fly to Whitted. Whitted drove a single to right field, which Cady hit off his toes. Hoblitzel stole second as Lewis was striking out. Gardner put a high fly, which Catcher Burns grabbed, just inside the diamond, the side going out.

The Phillips were quickly disposed of in their half of the sixth. Paskert went out, Shore to Hoblitzel. Cravath poked out a long fly to Speaker and Luderus hit weakly to Barry and was out at first.

The sky seventh was unproductive for either team. Barry raised the flag of the Red Sox by pushing a single through short. He went to second on Cady's sacrifice, Alexander to Luderus, but he was left there as both Shore and Hooper struck out.

The stay of the Quakers at the bat this inning was also brief. Whitted drove out what looked like a home run to the left field bleachers, but the northwester held the ball back and settled into Lewis' hands not far from the wall separating the field from the crowd. Shore tossed out Niehoff and Barry fielded Burns' grounder and retired the little catcher.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York, Oct. 8.—The cotton market was less active today and prices showed further irregularity, with January fluctuating between 12.88 and 12.67c, and closing at 12.72c, with the general market final steady at a net decline of 5 to 11 points on the day.

The market opened at an advance of 9 points to a decline of 6 points, and prices showed some yesterday's sellers that the early weather map did not show killing temperatures. Near months eased off, with the latest delivered right after, but the official record calling for frosts in several sections of both the eastern and western belts quickly checked the decline and active months sold 7 to 8 points net higher during the middle of the morning, with a weekly selling at 12.72c and March at 13.14c.

Prices broke again during the middle of the day on reports that southern growers were offering spots more freely and the domestic sales were showing little immediate interest in the market. This decline carried December oil to 11.52c and March to 12.92c, or about 12 to 15 points net lower, and was followed by a rally of seven 7 to 8 points in the late trading on covering. New Orleans buying and moderate support from local prices to meet advices the first official forecast of India cotton crop prospects for 1915-16 indicates a decrease of 22 per cent in acreage.

New Orleans, Oct. 8.—Cotton remained unsettled today, bullish features not having their usual influence. At the best of the session prices were 4 to 8 points over yesterday's close, and the lowest the were 12 to 14 points under. The market was at a net loss of 10 to 15 points.

Better cotton than the day before caused a rise, but the soon was lost under liquidation. Frost warnings resulted in renewed buying, which put prices to a net gain of 4 to 8 points, but selling increased and hard spots again in the middle of the day, so the market was at its lowest. In the afternoon realization by longs was persistent and offerings from this source checked all upward movement.

The market was still steady underway, but by the cold wave crossing the country and by reports of high prices being paid for spots in the interior. Moderate short selling was in the middle of the day, so the market was at its lowest. The afternoon realization by longs was persistent and offerings from this source checked all upward movement.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 8.—The government's crop report placing the condition at only 60.5 per cent, or more than 7 per cent below the ten-year average, and indicating a lint yield of only 1.5 per bale stimulated the buying movement to even greater activity and excitement during the earlier part of the week in the cotton market. January contracts, which had sold off to 11.50c on the Friday before, were carried to 12.72c or more, this $1.20 a bale above the low level of July 1, before there was an subsidence of demand. At this level, however, the tendency to take profits seems more general, while buying was less aggressive and irregular, with business somewhat less active. Reactions of about $3 a bale have been followed by rallies, however, with sellers again checking by favorable weather conditions in the belt, bullish southern spot advices and reiterated predictions of ultimately much higher values. National cotton crop statistics, particularly from those who believe the acreage has been underestimated, although grain returns to Sept. 25 were considered in line with expert crop figures, with nearly all private advices reaching the trade have confirmed the official statements as to the poor prospects for any top crop this season.

Still the failure of low spot quotations to move in the same direction as the more aggressive outside demand has been regarded by some as indicating that crop estimates already had been far reduced, while private cables reporting that Liverpool's cotton crop estimated at 12,500,000 bales may also have promoted the more reactionary tendency of the market.

It seems, however, that there is a very substantial divergence of opinion as to requirements among English authorities, as a London statistician not long ago was credited with estimating them at full crop.

Toward the end of the week there was more talk of hedge selling, and of freer offerings by growers, but the bulk of the pressure against prices has been attributed to the liquidation of speculative long accounts.

of the right kind enable the sportsman to get full enjoyment out of hunting trips.

The colored glass in the styles I sell not only softens the strong sunlight but is also a distinct aid to good marksmanship. You'll appreciate this better if you'll try a pair of these just one trip and note how the special tinted glass makes an object stand out in strong relief against a bright sky.

I can grind the lenses specially to your prescription if wanted.

FIVE NEW WESLEY CLASSES ARE ADDED

FEDERATION ELECTS OFFICERS FOR TERM WITH A. C. CARRAWAY AS PRESIDENT.

DAY AT THE COTTON PALACE

Special Program Will Be Prepared for Friday, November 12.

At the regular monthly meeting of the City Federation of Wesley Adult Bible classes held at Morrow Street Methodist church after a short program and report from committees the election of officers for the next six months took place, the following being elected:

A. C. Carraway, president; A. M. Smith, vice president; Miss Bertha Baker, secretary; Miss Helmrich, assistant secretary; B. B. Blue, treasurer; Horace Williams, chairman extension committee; Miss Maude Sharp, chairman program committee; Mrs. A. J. Everhardt, chairman social committee; Mrs. Smedley, pianist; Rev. D. A. McGuire, choir leader.

Horace Williams, reporting for the extension committee, presented three classes from the orphans and two from Elim Street for membership which were unanimously elected.

Oscar Hunter, treasurer, reported a small balance on hand after paying all dues.

T. D. Whitteman reported that the Cotton Palace directors were very anxious for the federation to have a day at the Cotton Palace this year and had set aside Friday, Nov. 12, at a time from 4 to 6 the federation would have the coliseum for the rendition of any program the federation would see fit to demand. Mr. Whitteman said he had taken the matter up with Dr. Bulla of Nashville, Tenn., head of the Wesley movement, and that he was heartily in favor of it and would furnish a good speaker for the occasion. After considerable discussion it was moved and seconded that the president appoint a committee to arrange for same.

Roll call showed the largest attendance from Elm Street, followed by Morrow Street.

Austin Avenue invited the federation to meet with them next month.

This meeting will be on the second Friday in November.

Man Who Took Cow Given Two Years on Plea of Guilty

Gus Wencel, a young white man, was given two years in the penitentiary yesterday, he having plead guilty in the Fifty-fourth district court to theft of a cow. Wencel was arrested by Sheriff S. S. Fleming and his deputies within twenty-four hours after the theft was committed, some very quick work being done.

The young man's former employer telephoned to the sheriff's office that a cow, which had been staked out to graze, was missing. Sheriff Fleming and his men got busy, discovered that a cow corresponding to the description had been sold to a local packing plant and secured a description of the seller and the name of his employer.

Some investigation showed that the young man had bought some sheep, put the change in his pocket, and by a little more skillful sleuthing, it was found out that Wencel was out buggy-riding with a young lady. One of Sheriff Fleming's men met the buggy on Riverside drive and Wencel had the crime-proving shoes on. Later he admitted his guilt.

Only a very short time elapsed between the discovery that the cow was gone and Wencel's arrest and Sheriff Fleming received many compliments on the excellent handling of the case.

Well-Expanded Lungs Not Enough.

Pure blood is indispensable to the health and strength of the lungs. The delicate structure of these organs makes it necessary. When the blood is impure the lungs lose their tone, and even if they are permitted to expand freely, they have not the power fully to perform their important work.

The fact is, there is a more important necessity in our physical economy than pure blood, the kind of blood that pure blood, Sarsaparilla makes. This medicine is the good old reliable family remedy for diseases of the blood, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh and low or run-down conditions of the system.

At this time, when coughs and colds are so prevalent, Hood's Sarsaparilla is an invaluable tonic. Get it today, and begin to take it at once. Accept no substitute.
